

Wisdom in Watercolor

Top 10 Watercolor Studio Staples

When setting up a kitchen, it's wise to keep standard food staples on hand to serve as basic building blocks of many recipes. The same principle is true for painting watercolor. Whether you have a brand-spanking-new-state-of-the-art studio space with all the bells and whistles or a simple set up on your kitchen table, here are the top ten items I recommend you keep on hand.

- 1- watercolor paint
- 2- water bowl
- 3- 140 lb. watercolor paper (pads or sheets)
- 4- brushes (both flat and round)
- 5- paper towels
- 6- artist's tape
- 7- tracing paper
- 8- squirt bottle (for water)
- 9- masking fluid
- 10- music you love

By assembling these ten simple items, you will be off to a great start with watercolor!

Debbie Hannah Skinner is a follower of Christ who is also an artist, national speaker, and writer. Her colorful "paint talks" combine biblical teaching with a watercolor painting that comes to life on stage, inspiring women to strengthen and soothe their souls by savoring Scripture. She hopes you will drop by WisdomInWatercolor.com for a visit!